At the University of Graz, researchers and students work across a broad disciplinary spectrum to enlarge our knowledge, and find strategies to deal with challenges our society is confronted with and to shape tomorrow’s world. The University of Graz is a place which combines high quality academic research and teaching, where achievement is rewarded, careers are promoted, and social diversity is encouraged – all within a modern, award-winning working environment. Our motto: We work for tomorrow. Join us!

The Institute of Physics is looking for a

University assistant without doctorate (m/f/d)

40 hours a week
fixed-term employment for 4 years*
position to be filled as of 01.09.2023

The Institute of Physics is seeking a highly motivated young individual for the Surface and Interface Physics group to participate in experimental research projects aimed at elucidating surface processes at the molecular and atomic level through the use of scanning probe microscopy and photoemission spectroscopy/tomography techniques.

Your duties

- Participate in projects conducted by the research group on Surface and Interface Science
- Possibility to work on a relevant PhD thesis in the field surface science
- Teach courses and conduct examinations as part of the Physics Bachelors study
- Student support and supervision
- Cooperation on organizational and administrative tasks as well as in evaluation measures

Your Profile

- Completed diploma or master’s degree in the field of Physics / Physical Chemistry
- Excellent command of spoken and written German and English
- Very good IT skills
- Knowledge of the concepts and experimental methods of surface science
- Highly committed and motivated approach to academic work
- Independent, goal-oriented approach to work
- High level of social and communication skills

Our Offer

Classification
Salary scheme of the Universitäten-KV (University Collective Agreement): B1
Minimum Salary

The minimum salary as stated in the collective agreement and according to the classification scheme is EUR 45,882.20 gross/year (for full-time employment). This minimum salary may be higher due to previous employment periods eligible for inclusion and other earnings and remunerations.

We offer you a job with a lot of responsibility and variety. You can expect an enjoyable work climate, flexible work hours and numerous possibilities for further education and personal development. Take advantage of the chance to enter into a challenging work environment full of team spirit and enthusiasm for your job.

Application deadline: 12.07.2023

The University of Graz strives to increase the proportion of women in particular in management and faculty positions and therefore encourages qualified women to apply.

Especially with regard to academic staff, we welcome applications from persons with disabilities who meet the requirements of the advertised position.

* Please note the limitations of § 109 UG (university act), especially in the case of short contract terms. For further information, please refer to our general application regulations.

For further information or questions, please contact:

Univ.-Prof. Dipl.-Ing. Dr.techn. Martin Sterrer
martin.sterrer@uni-graz.at

Please note that in order to comply with the applicable data protection regulations, we can only accept applications via our web-based applicant tool for this vacant position.

Apply now